

MCLEOD NINE

McLeod Nine have been hailed as one of the most exciting and interesting musical acts in the roots music scene. Their eclectic and energetic sound covers a broad range of intriguing original material, from string jazz with a Gypsy flavor to inspiring original songs with lots of energy and musical spice to Americana and folk to traditional fiddle tunes. McLeod Nine are Gordon and Christy McLeod. Here's what some of their fans are saying:

"Love, Love, Love this---You have such a zest for life and are so entertaining! Look forward to everything you put out!"" You two are so fun and creative! Love it!" **"
Your voice is gorgeous, excellent instrumentals--adorable!""You guys are so talented and you always look like you are enjoying yourselves - makes me smile!""Smokin' and lyrical!"" So enjoyable!"

Beside their work with McLeod Nine, Gordon and Christy are founders of the acclaimed Americana Celtic roots band Beyond The Pale and The Aisling String Trio. Gordon is a former violinist and guitarist with The Texas Gypsies.

Gordon McLeod is always searching for the true soul of any music he plays. He plays a number of instruments. As a fiddler he is equally at home with jazz, Americana and folk styles as well as authentic traditional Irish fiddling. Gordon is also well known as a guitarist and for playing mandolin, clarinet and several other instruments. He is in demand as a recording session artist, producer, and live performer. Gordon is an award winning songwriter as well, and a multiple winner of songwriting competitions for his songs. Gordon's original songs have been licensed for independent film and television projects as well as being included on numerous compilations.

Christy McLeod has been called “a fun seeking missile” for good reason. She radiates warmth and energy and conveys a love of life through her singing and playing that is infectious, igniting spontaneous human happiness whenever she performs. Her clear sweet voice is the perfect match for her powerful guitar style. Having played many styles for most of her life, her creative song renditions, whether her own compositions or covers of other great songs, never fail to captivate and inspire her audiences. Christy is also a multi-instrumentalist, playing guitar, mandolin, percussion and harmonica and is an accomplished songwriter, having penned several songs performed by McLeod Nine and Beyond The Pale including the title track to Beyond The Pale's Album "The Music Plays Me".
